PRINCIPALS PEN

We had an incredible day with Dr Ann Milne on Monday for our Teacher Only Day. Staff spent time working on some of our videos in maths through Flipped Learning and ensuring culture and identity are present in what we engage our LEGENDs with. Her session with the staff celebrated the chapter she wrote in her recent release, and we were challenged further around being critically conscious thinkers. Really asking ourselves 'why' we are teaching what we are teaching, why we are assessing what we are assessing and the strong importance of culture and identity.

In the afternoon, multiple educators joined us for another session with a different presentation that further challenged our thinking.

I also spent a day this week in Wellington at the Ministry of Education looking at one of the learning support systems and give feedback. While I was there, I met a lady who had attended Cloverlea in the 80s and painted her image on the fence! I also got to hear some of her memories which included sleeping on the courts to watch Haileys Comet!

WE ARE LEGENDS!

Please remember to pack a named set of spare clothes in your LEGENDs bag, no matter how old they are. Having extra clothes handy helps us quickly get them dry after muddy play or unexpected bathroom accidents.
